

Dear all,

I am writing you as a taskforce member and also one of the co-chairs of The Society for Psychoanalysis and Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy's (SPPP) annual Spring conference, to be held March 18-21, 2020 in NYC.

The conference theme is Reckoning/Foresight and decolonial thought and practice is taking a front seat. Our friends from the Lenape Center will be opening up the conference to welcome us to Manhaatan, and also presenting a panel on decolonial praxis later in the conference. Our keynote speakers are each speaking about Decolonial praxis and theory, and one of them is none other than Mirielle Fanon Mendes-France, humanist rights activist and advocate, head of the Frantz Fanon Foundation, and Fanon's daughter.

Please see below for further information. Early bird registration is open now!

<https://www.division39springmeetingcom/conference-info>

Please let me know if you have any questions and I really hope to meet some of you there!

Lara Sheehi, Psy.D.

drlarasheehi@gmail.com

she/her/hers