CONSTRUCTING THE PSYCHOLOGICAL HUMANITIES

BOSTON COLLEGE | HYBRID

21–23 APRIL 2023

ANNUAL SPRING MEETING CALL FOR PROPOSALS

What would a more human, humane, and humanities-informed psychology look like? Why would we desire such a psychology? Who would it serve?

The Society for Theoretical & Philosophical Psychology invites you to share your work, ideas, and questions about constructing the psychological humanities. The purpose of this conference is to build community and share ideas related to the theory, practice, and reimagining of psychology as a discipline and agent for social change. Interdisciplinary proposals are encouraged. Submissions from students and early career psychologists are welcome!
